

POOL SAFETY COMPLIANCE

Regulated pools in Queensland, need to follow a set of compliance and safety standards to guarantee that they are operated and maintained to reduce risks, such as drowning.

At Pacific Smoke Alarms, we are qualified and professional pool safety inspectors and our inspections can determine the compliance of your swimming pool against legislation, and advise you on fencing, barriers, and other elements that contribute to a safe pool and pool area.

You can even engage with us for on-going advice!

If your pool is deemed compliant:

Once we've deemed your pool compliant, we will issue a pool safety certificate to you.

If your pool is not compliant:

Pools that do not meet the standard safety requirements may be served with a nonconformity notice, unless:

- Re-inspection is conducted two days after the initial inspection and pools owners meet compliance; or
- An agreement is reached that repairs will be carried out within 20 business days from the original inspection.

We're ready to help you meet safety regulations to protect your family from harm. Make sure every moment in your backyard is filled with beautiful memories, get pool safety compliant with us today!
